

2022 Interfaith HIV and AIDS Capacity Building Grant:

Request for Proposals

*Interfaith America and Wake Forest University School of Divinity through the Gilead COMPASS (COMmitment to Partnership in Addressing HIV/AIDS in Southern States) Initiative are working to address the HIV/AIDS epidemic in the Southern United States. These states include Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Texas. Interfaith America is pleased to offer $4,000.00 grants to campus interfaith leaders to facilitate community-wide learning and develop curricular or co-curricular programs on the HIV/AIDS crisis in the South.

Projects will be designed to use spiritual, religious, and worldview skillsets as well as research and methodology in interfaith cooperation to address stigma and increase understanding of HIV and AIDS throughout the region. The project will be carried out by a three-person, campus-based team including faculty, staff, and/or students.

Through campus relationships, we will work together as a cohort and with faith-based organizations to engage underrepresented communities and minimize the stigmatization of HIV and AIDS. In this pursuit, we will be part of the solution to break down barriers of HIV and AIDS stigma and shame, connect through robust creative partnerships, and ensure strategic support to create an infrastructure to secure long-term engagement.

Program Overview

Interfaith America has a significant footprint across the Southern United States. Our reach spans both rural and urban areas and includes Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic Serving Institutions, Minority Serving Institutions, and faith-based colleges. Invited universities will receive $4,000.00 grants to facilitate community-wide learning and develop curricular or co-curricular programs using an interfaith lens to address the HIV and AIDS crisis in the South. Through these university relationships, we will be able to connect with faith-based organizations and engage underrepresented communities to minimize the stigmatization of HIV and AIDS and impact how these communities respond to HIV and AIDS in the future.
